WELCOME FROM THE HARVARD CHAMBER OF COMMERCE & INDUSTRY

The Harvard Chamber of Commerce proudly presents to you the latest edition of our yearly Community Guide and Membership Directory. This is a great resource for existing and new residents and businesses, or those considering relocating or investing in Harvard. Inside this valuable Guide you will find information about education, healthcare, local businesses, governmental agencies and community resources at your fingertips.

As the Chamber celebrates our 92nd Anniversary, we reflect on how our environment has evolved from a barter system, the invention of electricity, a rotary telephone, typewriters, and televisions to advanced technology using computers, internet, cell phones, and much more! Harmilda (our town mascot) proudly stands and welcomes daily visitors, residents, and employees.

The Harvard Chamber of Commerce works closely with all sizes of businesses and organizations offering a proactive business approach. As a Chamber member, we offer many opportunities to develop relationships within the business community through programs, special events ie: ribbon cuttings, business EXPO, networking opportunities, and visibility in the community. The Chamber sponsors Job Fairs to participating businesses with various types of employment needs. Each year, the Chamber hosts an Annual Dinner to honor and recognize the community and its members for their contributions and milestones.

We strive to educate businesses and the community with issues and actions within our community. Last year we held our first "City Address" with leaders from the City: Mayor, Michael P. Kelly; Chief of Police, Tyson Bauman; Deputy Fire Chief, Carmen Sacco; District 50 Superintendent, Dr. Corey Tafoya; and Executive Director from the Harvard Economic Development Corporation (HEDC), Charles Eldredge on how growth is impacting our community and what we are doing to promote the growth along with maintaining a warm and friendly small town feeling. Currently the second event is in the planning stage.

In addition to promoting Harvard businesses, we encourage residents to support our community too. You and your family play an integral part to our rapidly expanding community.

To our current Chamber members, we thank you for your valued relationship and continued support. If you are not a member, considering to open a business in Harvard or the local surrounding area, please contact the Harvard Chamber office at 815-943-4404 or visit our website at www.harvardchamber.com. We are a great source of information, here to support you, and invite you to be part of our future. You are invited to attend our monthly meetings held on the 2nd Thursday starting at 7:30 am at the Chamber office. Join us and meet our dedicated Board members.

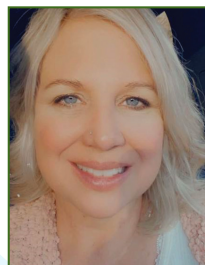

As the 2022 President, and on behalf of the Board of Directors and Chamber staff, we have an exciting year planned and we ask and thank you for your continued support.

MAYOR OF HARVARD

The Harvard Chamber of Commerce Community Guide is your ready resource for a sundry of Harvard related items. It showcases City of Harvard key contacts, policies, and ordinances. It gives you an up to date listing of Harvard area businesses offering products and services to Harvard and beyond. Learn a little about our City's history, clubs and organizations, activities, and schedules of events.

Harvard is business friendly! The City of Harvard along with our partners in the Harvard Chamber of Commerce & Industry and the Harvard Economic Development Corporation is constantly working to expand our commercial, industrial, and retail sectors. The State of Illinois awarded the City of Harvard the Harvard-Woodstock Enterprise Zone which is the only such established zone in all of McHenry County. The Enterprise Zone provides significant State and Local tax benefits for businesses which expand or move to Harvard. Learn more by visiting www.harvardwoodstockenterprisezone.com. Harvard is also part of a Foreign Trade Zone providing added benefits and incentives for companies which make international shipments. We look forward to welcoming your new or expanding business to Harvard.

Harvard is family oriented! Our City has many sporting programs for children of all ages. We have over 125 acres of City Park land, a 7,000 Sq. Ft. Pool, and ever growing number of City sponsored programing for residents of all ages. We host various festivals including the longest running festival in the State of Illinois; Harvard Milk Days, which takes place the first weekend in June. Harvard Milk Days is a long celebrated tradition that celebrates our history of being the Milk Capital of the World. A parade, carnival, and Milk Days Queen Pageant are just a few of the activities sponsored by the Harvard Milk Days. The Harvard Balloon Fest floats its way into Harvard every Labor Day weekend with 15+ hot air balloons, music, food, and fun. The event attracts visitors from all over the Midwest and beyond, attended by 25,000+ visitors to our City. Our Library provides fantastic programing services and check outs of books, videos, and other items. Our Senior Center provides social activities and meals for our greatest generation. There are many Not-For-Profit organizations in our community that provide many volunteer opportunities to serve our residents.

Harvard is poised to help grow our residential sector. The Harvard City Council reduced all City permits and impact fees to the LOWEST in McHenry County by a large margin. If you are looking to build a new home, look no further than Harvard. There are several residential subdivisions with ready to build lots available. Contact the City's Building Department for more information.

The City of Harvard is here to serve our residents by fostering a safe, business friendly, and family oriented community where can we all live, work, and play, and are proud to call Harvard Home. I am proud of our community involvement and cherish the people of Harvard. Harvard is a wonderful place to raise a family and build a business.

HARVARD ... A COMMUNITY INVOLVED

The citizens of the Harvard area are committed volunteers. A variety of people give countless hours to serve on boards and committees of organizations, they raise money, they put on benefit auctions, they bake and sell cakes, they paint meeting rooms, they plant trees, they transport hot lunches to shut-ins and the services they provide are worth more than the money they save.

Schools are another major recruiter of volunteers - to work directly with children, act as resource people or serve on citizen committees. Volunteers also serve in advisory capacities on a number of city commissions.

Many service clubs and civic organizations have made significant contributions to the community. Their efficiency and organization have raised volunteerism to a professional status.

In an age of supposed self-interest, Harvard citizens care ... and it is this concern that is the very fiber that knits the community together.

GRASS MOWING

Grass and weeds are to be mowed and kept under five inches tall. Clippings are not to be blown into the streets. Cleanup will be required.

GUN REGISTRATION

The State of Illinois requires mandatory registration of firearm owners. Applications for a Firearm Owners Identification Card may be picked up at the Police Department or sporting goods store. The Police Department will photograph applicants for a $2.00 charge at which time the applicant is responsible for sending the form along with $5.00 registration fee to the State of Illinois.

HUNTING LICENSE

A hunting license is required by state statute and can be obtained at any sporting goods store. Contact the Illinois Department of Conservation for specific regulations and season limitation.

HYDRANT FLUSHING

The Utilities Dept. will flush and test hydrants twice a year. Flushing helps the City clean the water main by removing sediment and rust deposits and allows the City to verify the condition of all the fire hydrants. Hydrant flushing may create rust and brown colored water. The water is safe to drink but will stain clothes washed in it. If you experience rusty water, let your faucet run until clear.

INOPERABLE VEHICLE OR JUNK CARS

It is unlawful for anyone in the city to keep, store, maintain or otherwise retain, on either public or private property and in public view, any inoperable or unlicensed motor vehicle or partially dismantled vehicle or junk car. Cars will be towed.

LEAF COLLECTION

The City has contracted with a private disposal service for the curbside collection of leaves in the fall in residential areas inside the city limits. Leaves are to be raked to the curb (not in the street). The schedule for leaf pickup varies from year-to-year depending on weather conditions. Public Works does not pick up leaves.

LEGAL DRINKING AGE

The legal drinking age in Illinois is 21 for all alcoholic beverages.

OVERNIGHT PARKING

Parking is prohibited on all City streets between the hours of 2:00 and 5:00 AM.

PEDDLERS AND SOLICITORS

It is unlawful for any person to engage in business as a peddler or solicitor in a residential area of the City without first having obtained a license pursuant to City regulations. Contact City Hall.

RAFFLE LICENSE

Any non-profit organization interested in conducting a raffle must receive a license issued by the City. The completed application and $10 fee should be submitted to the Mayor's office for approval, after which a license will be issued. Forms can be obtained at City Hall or at www.cityofharvard.org

SNOW EMERGENCY

A snow emergency shall exist within the City when two or more inches of snow has occurred, or whenever the Public Works Director or his designee declares that a snow emergency exists. The Director or his designee may declare a snow emergency at a time prior to an accumulation of two inches of snow if, in his judgment, the weather conditions are such that an early declaration of a snow emergency would promote the effective implementation of the City's snow removal plan. After a snow emergency comes into existence or is declared, it shall continue until such time as the Public Works Director or his designee declares its termination.

No Parking: When a snow emergency exists, it shall be unlawful for any vehicle to be parked on any public street or parking lot in the City. Any vehicle in violation of this provision will be ticketed and towed away by or at the discretion of the City. The owner of the vehicle, as well as the person who caused said vehicle to stop, stand or park, shall be individually liable for all expenses incurred as a result of towing said vehicle away. Your cooperation by parking off of the street during any snowfall, even when less than two inches, will make the task of clearing the streets more efficient and safer.

When clearing your own driveway or parking lot, please do not push or blow snow into the street, across the street, or onto any other property. Pushing snow into the street can leave windrows in the street that result in traffic hazards, add to icing problems, and also cause problems for your neighbors cleaning a driveway and pushing snow across the street onto their property on the opposite side. Please respect your neighbor and also help to keep our streets safer by avoiding this problem.

SNOW REMOVAL SPECIAL REQUESTS

The Department of Public Works maintains approximately 40 center line miles of streets and several public parking lots for snow removal. In order for this work to be completed in a timely manner, it is necessary for each truck to follow a specific pre-planned route. It is not possible for the City to accept and complete snow removal on a specific street on a request basis. The Department of Public Works does remain in direct communication with both the Harvard Police Department and Harvard Fire Protection District during snow events. If the assistance of a snow plow is needed to respond to an emergency location, the truck will be dispatched by those emergency departments.

SWIMMING POOL AND PARKS

For information on the Harvard Aquatic Center and the parks, please see page 46.

MAINTENANCE OF TREES IN RIGHT OF WAY

The DPW is responsible for the maintenance, trimming, and removal of all trees located within the street right of way. To request trimming or removal of a tree within the right of way, please contact the DPW. Trees will only be trimmed if they are deemed to be a hazard.

Residents may be permitted to trim or remove trees within the street right of way subject to approval. Contact the Community Development Dept.

WATER BILLING

Water and sewer bills for all properties served by the City are issued to the property owner every two months and are prepared based on water meters installed at each property. These meters record the amount of water used in units of 100 cubic feet (100 cubic feet of water equals approximately 750 gallons), and the meters are read by City employees every two months. The reading from the water meter is also used to calculate the sewer bill for the property. If you have any questions or would like to arrange for direct payments from your checking/savings account, contact the water billing clerk at (815) 943-6468 or at murillo@cityofharvard.org.

WATER METER REPLACEMENTS AND REPAIRS

The DPW provides maintenance and replacement services for all water meters. Meter repairs and meter replacements will be performed by the City at no cost to the customer. The building owner is responsible for the maintenance and repairs of the plumbing pipe at the meter and also to provide working shut off valves at the meter. Many of the older style of water meters require the reading to be taken inside of the home or building. This can be an inconvenience to the property owner, or if no one is home, requires the customer to take their own meter reading and return it to the City. The City offers, free of charge replacement of these older style water meters. A new meter will be installed that includes an outside reading device, which eliminates the need for the City employee to go inside of the building to take the reading. Contact the DPW kruckenberg@cityofharvard.org to take advantage of this free upgrade.

It's Harvard's unofficial reunion weekend and Illinois' longest continuously running festival

Harvard became the self-proclaimed "Milk Center of the World" when at one time there were as many as seven dairy companies within a 15-mile radius of Harvard. Those dairies produced more milk than anywhere else in the United States.

In the spring of 1942, a local war effort was underway in the Stateline area to increase milk and food production for our servicemen in World War II. At a small, civic celebration, which included a gathering of all the folks in the Harvard area, friends and neighbors, both city and farm dwellers, pledged to return a year later during June Dairy Month to renew their efforts to sell war bonds and support this area's war involvement.

That gathering now attracts over 100,000 visitors to Harvard over a two-week period in late May and early June.

The community has changed since the street dance and hay wagon days, however Harvard Milk Days still builds itself around a huge parade on Ayer Street. Over the years, world-class athletes to nationally recognized politicians have led the Milk Days Parade. Mickey Mouse, the Budweiser Clydesdales, the Jesse White Tumblers, and many, many more famous people have graced the Milky Way.

While the essence of Harvard Milk Days remains a salute to Americana, and our heritage, Harvard Milk Days is also a huge enterprise. Hundreds of volunteers work year-round to scout talent for entertainment, contract bands and drum corps for the parade and arrange for new features for the Milk Days festival grounds.

While some events, like the Mini Tractor Pulls and hot air balloon launches, are new, several favorites remain.

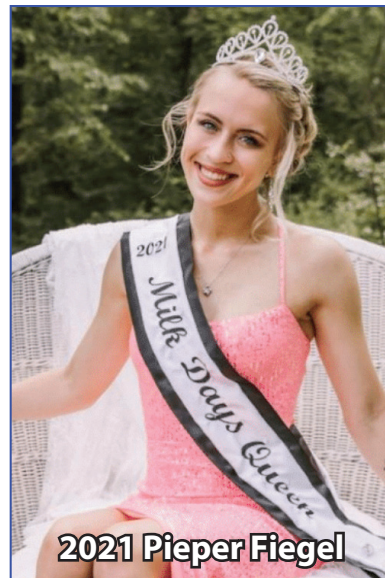

Harvard Milk Days' Prince and Princess contest is famous for the crepe paper costumes worn by the contestants. Big Wheel and Bed Races close Ayer Street for hometown fun, and the Milk Drinking Contest hosted by Dean Foods always draws a crowd.

We invite you to take part in all of our activities, whether it is crowning royalty, cheering on your favorite entry in a competitive event, or just to sit in the shade and enjoy our two-hour parade along that famous strip of street known worldwide as the "Milky Way."

More information on all of our activities is available at our website - www.milkdays.com, where you will also find online registration for our events. You can also e-mail us at info@milkdays.com or call us at 815-943-4614.

McHenry County
CONSERVATION DISTRICT

FISHING LICENSE AVAILABLE: Wal-Mart McGuire Rd. 815-943-7496

The McHenry County Conservation District was established by voter referendum in 1971. Its purpose, as defined by state statutes, is three-fold:

Preservation—Over 25,000 acres have been preserved by the District, providing protection for prairies, savannas and wetlands.

Education—Programs and workshops teach children and adults ways to respect and enjoy their natural surroundings. Two popular activities include the Festival of the Sugar Maples at Coral Woods Conservation Area in March and Hooked on Fishing at Rush Creek and The Hollows in June.

Recreation—District sites throughout the county offer a wide range of recreational opportunities, including hiking, horseback riding, permit camping, biking, canoeing, fishing and picnicking.

For more information about the Conservation District, its sites and services, visit MCCDistrict.org or find us on Facebook. District Administrative Offices are located at 18410 U.S. Highway 14 between Harvard and Woodstock, open Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., (815) 338-6223. Another great source of information about the Conservation District and its programs is Landscapes, the District's free seasonal magazine. If you would like to receive Landscapes on a regular basis by mail or e-notification, contact the District to have your name added to the mailing list.

Four of the District's sites can be found in the Harvard area:

RUSH CREEK CONSERVATION AREA

is located on McGuire Road, east of Route 14. It has over 726 acres of forest, wetlands and meadows providing habitat for a wide variety of bird and animal life. Visitors can hike interpretive nature trails, fish the pond for bass or bluegill, bird watch or ride along the horse trails. The camping area can accommodate large groups and picnic facilities are available. Winter activities include ice fishing and cross-country skiing. Water and sanitary facilities are located onsite.

BECK'S WOODS

lies on either side of Route 173, with entrances on Pagles Road or Maxon Road. It has been a public gathering place since 1872, when Isaiah and Elizabeth Beck left the pasture gate unlocked for anyone who wanted to fish or picnic. Today the 283-acre site offers areas for picnics or camping under the oak trees, while the Piscasaw River tempts anglers with bluegill, trout and small mouth bass. Water and sanitary facilities are available.

STONE MILL TRAIL

This 1.5 mile trail takes users from Maxon Road in Chemung, along Ramer Road to Lawrence Road near Milky Way Park in Harvard. Historically, a saw mill, grist mill and then a Flour mill all existed on the Chemung end of the trail dating back to 1845. The Stone Mill trail provides a great recreational amenity to these two rural towns and provides a safe means of travel.

HIGH POINT CONSERVATION AREA

is located on Reese Road between Rt 173 and Hebron Rd. Notably, this 253 acre site contains the highest glaciated point above sea level in the state. A 1 mile looped nature trail provides scenic views of the surrounding landscape as it travels through an oak and hickory woodland.

CENTRAL SCHOOL

At tradition in Education since 1888

Building Opened in 1888. Converted to District Administration Offices in December 2011

Central School was converted in 2011 to District 50's Administrative Offices. Central School now houses all administrative and district-wide functions. The renovation focused on making the building appropriate for administrative office use, while retaining the fell and spirit of the school building that has served generations of Harvard students. The move of the Administrative offices to Central School fulfilled two promises the district made to the community: 1) to preserve the Central School building and use it for something important and 2) free up space in the High School for additional classrooms.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL

A Bright Start for a Brighter Tomorrow

Building opened in 1953

Washington School houses the District's At-Risk Pre-Kindergarten (Pre-K), Early Childhood Education (ECE). The Washington staff is dedicated to giving the children of Harvard a strong start in their career as life-long learners.

The half-day Pre-K Program serves three- and four-year-old children who have been identified through a screening process as being at risk of academic failure. The Pre-K staff works closely with the children to develop language, social and fine & gross motor skills to ensure success in kindergarten and beyond.

The Early Childhood Education Program serves three- to six-year olds who have special education needs. Early intervention is key to future success. These children are served in classrooms that provide small group and one-on-one instruction that meets each child's individual needs as determined by his Individual Education Plan (IEP).

The staff of Washington School is determined to give all young children the skills and confidence they need to be successful lifelong learners.

RICHARD D. CROSBY ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Building opened in 2010

Richard D. Crosby Elementary School is the first new school in District 50 in 48 years. This two-story, kid-focused building houses the district's kindergarten through 3rd grade classes. Classrooms are designed in grade-level neighborhoods or groups, centered around an open Discovery Center for each grade. Classrooms are provided with technology tools that help teachers to keep learning interesting and engaging. The expanded library, computer rooms, auditorium style reading space, Discovery Centers, and small group areas provide teachers with a variety of learning environments in which to engage their students.

Crosby Elementary provides the community with community meeting spaces including a community meeting room, a multi-purpose room and the gymnasium which includes bleachers and a stage.

JEFFERSON ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Meeting the Needs of All Learners

Building opened in 1954

Jefferson Elementary School houses fourth and fifth grades. Jefferson is a child-centered school with a mix of veteran and energetic new staff. Jefferson students work to live up to the Jefferson pledge "to do their best and respect others."

Jefferson teachers work to build character and to ensure students feel positive about themselves. The related service staff supports students with special needs or those who need help adapting to a new school. Jefferson motivates students with unique activities like reading rallies, a climbing wall, a pond and nature area for environmental learning, Red Ribbon Week activities, and attendance competitions.

Jefferson is a recognized regional leader in PBIS, a system that encourages positive student behaviors and living up to expectations. Early intervention programs are available for students in order to improve and strengthen academic skills such as reading and math. Jefferson Elementary School also provides a continuum of special education services such as resource- and self-contained classrooms.

HARVARD HIGH SCHOOL

Building Opened in 1921

"By knowing, valuing, and inspiring ALL learners, we will prepare graduates for a quality life after high school."

Extra-curricular activities such as the National Honor Society, Interact, History club, Tri-M, FFA, Scholastic Bowl, the Accounting Bowl, and Operation "Click" enhance academic instruction for academically-focused students.

The Career and Technical Education (CTE) curricula prepare students for careers in business, family and consumer science, industrial technology, agriculture, or the military. Dual credit is available in collaboration with MCC for several areas of career interest including but not limited to; automotive technology, early childhood development, Internet gaming, Emergency Medical Technician (EMT), fire safety, and nursing. The high school also offers alternative internet-based learning programs. The high school guidance department offers development training and resources to help students choose careers, colleges, tech schools and obtain financial aid.

Harvard High School competes in the prestigious Big Northern Conference where students can participate in sports, student government, instrumental and choral music, and other extra-curricular activities. Additionally, the Hornets have represented themselves well in state completion bringing home nine Illinois High School Association state tournament trophies including two state championships.

HARVARD JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Educating the Whole Child

Building Opened in 1962

Harvard Junior High School houses sixth through eighth grade students in a departmentalized junior high school setting.

Harvard Junior High School provides its students with a complete array of classes to prepare them for success in high school and beyond. In recent years, Harvard Junior High School has increased its focus on reading, literacy and math.

In addition to the basic education curriculum, Harvard Junior High stresses the total development of the student with exploratory classes in World Cultures, music, art, computers, and band as well as sports, student government, and other extra-curricular activities. If you happen to be near Harvard, Illinois on the first weekend in June, you might find yourself enjoying the annual "Milk Days" celebration. Milk Days is Harvard's way of honoring the important contributions of the agricultural community and the chance to tell the rest of the world that Harvard is a good place to live. It is a time of revelry, reunions and remembrances. People from all over the area join in the week's festivities which include a beauty pageant, a talent show, tractor pulls, farm tours, bed races, a special kid's parade and, of course, the big Milk Day Parade. Family and friends who have left Harvard 'come home' for the weekend and family reunions abound. And as the bands march along the "Milky Way," they trek past streets with names that remember Harvard's past.

Diggins Street is named for one of the earliest families to settle in Harvard. Wesley Diggins came to this area in 1827, built a log cabin that served as home and trading post, and encouraged other members of his family to join him. An explorer and adventurer at heart, Diggins eventually moved west to California and sold his property to a man named Blackman. A few years later, William Hart bought government land and began to build his homestead. Hart dreamed of developing a small village called "Sumner," but somehow his plans didn't work out as well as he expected.

Harvard, as a real town, became a reality primarily because of a man named Elbridge Gerry Ayer. Elbridge Ayer and his wife Mary left their home in Massachusetts and headed west in 1854. In 1855, Mr. Ayer bought four hundred acres of land in the Harvard area. Ayer watched with interest the growth of the railroad. He heard about how William B. Ogden, John Wentworth, George Randolph and others had envisioned Chicago as the greatest city in Illinois and sought to make it so by making it a railway center. In 1856, Ayer and two other railway enthusiasts, John Page and Henry Eastman, mapped out plans for a town and set out to win a contract to build a section of railway between Centerville (which is now Woodstock, Illinois) and the newly incorporated town of Harvard - which was named after Ayer's ancestral home. The rail link was part of William Ogden's Chicago, St. Paul and Fond du Lac Railroad which later became the Chicago and North Western Railroad.

CITY OF HARVARD

When the Chicago and North Western announced plans to build a routing center in the area, Ayer determined that it should be built in Harvard which then had a population of 250. Ayer, Page and Eastman offered the railroad free land for the routing center in exchange for a stipulation that all passenger trains stop in Harvard. The railroad agreed and Harvard entered its railroad era. The railroad brought many jobs and opportunities. Ayer, for example, built a three story hotel next to the railroad tracks. The hotel's dining room could serve 150 people at a time. Ayer's son, Edward E. Ayer, made his fortune producing railroad ties and became a prominent man in Chicago. By 1880, Harvard had grown to 1600 people. It was the place to buy groceries, clothing, medicine, furniture and tools. By the turn of the century the town bustled with wagon makers, barbers, dentists, doctors, a hospital, two banks, an insurance agency, billiard parlor and saloons. A pickle factory with a 30,000 bushel capacity began operating in 1883 and by 1885 nearly half of the small cheese factories in the county were located in Harvard.

Harvard now has over 8,000 people. The town, like most towns, has changed over the years. By 1916, the golden age of railroading was fading in the light of rising interest in a newer mode of transportation - the automobile. The railroad diminished in importance, although Harvard residents still ride the Chicago and Northwestern line into Chicago and other towns along the way. By 1927, the gravel road that ran north and south out of Harvard had been cemented over and became Federal Route 14. A former harness shop began selling Maxwell cars and a few years later a Ford dealership opened on Ayer Street. Today Harvard's business community is a blend of the past and the present.

Most local people agree that the best thing about Harvard is the people. Harvardites pride themselves on their resourcefulness and community spirit. They were the first town in the county to build a hospital, the first to build their own library building (in 2001 Harvard was blessed with a new, state of the art library) and the first to have a bank. We have also received as of 2001 a new state of the art aquatic center. The volunteer Fire/Rescue Department are a constant source of community pride.

2006 marked a historic milestone for the City of Harvard as we celebrated the Sesquicentennial Anniversary of the founding of our community. The Harvard Sesquicentennial Committee was formed in the fall of 2005 to plan and make preparations for the upcoming year. Local historian, Margaret Kistler, spearheaded the writing of a book, "Harvard: 150 Years" which is for sale at Harvard City Hall, the Chamber of Commerce, Harvard Diggins Library, the Historical Society and several businesses. Cost is $7.00.

HISTORY OF HARVARD

Numerous special events were held throughout the year to commemorate our 150th birthday including an Antique Fashion Show, featuring fashions from the 1850's to the 1970's held at the Harvard Moose Lodge; a Community Church Service during Milk Days Weekend; a Cemetery Walk at Mt. Auburn Cemetery; the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Traveling Wall and The Coalition Memorial at Harvard Diggins Library; a World War II Re-enactment held at Lion's Park and a USO Dance held at the Stratford Banquet Hall. The final tribute was the re-signing of the Original Plat of Harvard/150th Birthday Party held on November 25, 2006, at the Harvard Moose Lodge, exactly 150 years to the day when the original plat was recorded. A time capsule was buried at Milky Way Park on May 25th, 2007, to be opened in the year 2056.

Our community continued to grow during 2008 and 2009, despite a challenging economy. Walmart opened a 150,000 square foot SuperCenter on McGuire Road and was soon followed by new Advanced Auto, Walgreens and Tractor Supply locations. This set the stage for continued retail growth as the economy recovers.

The City of Harvard completed a major streetscape project in downtown Harvard during 2008, which featured new sidewalks, crosswalks, lamps and other furnishings, including planters and benches along Ayer Street. The project was considered to be a successful effort by all and downtown Harvard is well prepared for new businesses and community events.

The name Harmilda is derived from Harvard Milk Days (Har-mil-da). Harvard Milk Days was begun by the Greater Harvard Area Chamber of Commerce in 1942 to honor area farmers and to sell war bonds. It was such a hit that it has continued and is the longest continuous running festival in the state of Illinois.

Harmilda was first erected by the Jones brothers in 1966 when Harvard had the reputation of being the "Milk Center of the World." Then, more than one million pounds of milk would travel through our community during the course of one day. Harmilda was placed atop a pedestal in the center of town at the five points intersection and soon became the beloved town mascot.

In 1991 IDOT offered Harvard $650,000 to widen the intersection but the people of Harvard did not want their mascot moved from her 25-year home. Media from all over the country picked up the story and Harvard and Harmilda found themselves in the limelight. Plans for the road construction were put on hold until a solution could be found for Harmilda, whose tradition and history continued to pull the community together.

Three years passed and an agreement was reached. The Greater Harvard Area Chamber of Commerce donated their land at the corner of the five points to the city of Harvard to provide a home for Harmilda.

In June of 1994, Richard Hermonson donated his time, crew and machines in the demolition of the old chamber building that the Chamber had purchased in 1967 as one of the first buildings owned by a Chamber in the state of Illinois. Many calls, of course, came in with folks wondering where the Chamber had gone. The City of Harvard provided the Chamber with a temporary home for 15 months.

Shortly after the Chamber building was torn down Harmilda was removed from her pedestal and placed in storage so IDOT could widen the five points intersection. People who travel through Harvard wondered where the fiberglass Holstein had gone. The City of Harvard has developed a park on the old Chamber building property.

In September 2012, with the help of volunteers, the chamber moved to its current location at 36 N. Ayer St. Suite #1.

GREATER HARVARD AREA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Greater Harvard Area Historical Society is located at 308 N. Hart St. and is in its 30th year of existence. In 1989, the Society was able to purchase the old St. Paul Lutheran Church building from the Presbyterian Church, enabling the Society to have a permanent home. Education is a main concern of the Society. Tours for school children and other groups are available throughout the year. Arrangements can be made by calling the museum at (815) 943-6141 or the museum curator at (815) 943-3561. Harvard history books are available for purchase at the museum, Harvard Chamber of Commerce, or through museum members. Many other reference books and historical documents are available for research at the museum. Popular special exhibits from the museum collection are Harvard High School class pictures, the history of Milk Day celebrations, Starline products and catalogs, and a variety of antique clothing, farm and household items. An ongoing mission of the museum is the plaquing of historic sites in the area. The Society is also interested in obtaining Harvard family histories and in seeking out area businesses and farms that have been operating for more than 100 years.

The Society is supported by memberships, contributions from businesses, banks, Township governments and individual memorials and gifts. The museum is open from May through October on Sundays from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m. and on Wednesdays from 9:30 to noon or by appointment. Monthly programs on topics from Harvard and area history are held in the summer. Speakers and historical programs can be provided on request.

HARVARD DIGGINS LIBRARY

Visit the Harvard Diggins Public Library and enjoy a warm welcome to the Harvard community's center for learning, creating and imagining. Located in the recreational campus that includes the playground, sledding hill, swimming pool, Food Pantry, Senior Center and Lion's Park, the library offers books, DVD's, CD's, audio books, and magazines for checkout. The library's collection is not limited to print materials only. Digital books, audiobooks, and magazines are available for use on smart phones, tablets and computers with the touch of a finger from the library's website, www.harvard-diggins.org.

Library cardholders may access the library's collection and that of over 130 libraries in the PrairieCat consortium from the library's website 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Cardholders may search the catalog, place requests, and view and renew items checked out. As a member of PrairieCat and the Reaching Across Illinois Library System (RAILS), the library loans and borrows materials from other libraries widely.

Internet service is available on the library's public workstations as well as through the library's wi-fi. A local history area offers information about Harvard and the surrounding communities. Harvard newspapers from the late 1800's to 1986 have been digitized and are available for browsing from the 'Harvard Newspapers' link on the library's website.

The library's newsletter showcases the events and activities offered for all ages. It is available at the library and also on the library's homepage, www.harvard-diggins.org. Most events open to the community are offered at no cost. Quiet study space is available in the library's two study rooms overlooking the wildflower garden. The larger community meeting room, named the Burbank Room after local artist E.A. Burbank, is the site for most of the library's programming events.

Several special collections are found at the library and may be viewed during regular library hours. An early Harvard resident, Harriet Ayer Towne, gave her extensive butterfly collection to the library in 1918. The collection is housed in the Local History room. Artwork by Harvard's most famous native artist, E. A. Burbank is on permanent display in the Burbank Room. The library also owns a collection of the Harvard Milk Day posters including the original painting for the first Milk Day poster, titled 'Morning Milk' by Daniel Barrett (Daniel Armour).

Harvard Diggins Library is a municipal library and tax money for its support is collected on property within the city limits of Harvard. City of Harvard residents may obtain a library card at no additional cost. Persons living outside the city limits, in a non-taxed area, may purchase a nonresident library card for a fee calculated to reflect the average cost paid by a Harvard family. Both resident and nonresident cards may be used at most public libraries throughout the state of Illinois. Proof of address is required for registration.

The library is responsible to and exists for the Harvard community. Call for the latest information, (815)943-4671, or check the website at www.harvard-diggins.org.

THE HARVARD ENVIRONMENT

Harvard's environment offers many advantages and opportunities to businesses and families in a way that cannot be found elsewhere.

Our rich and productive farmland supports a variety of different agricultural products, dairy, livestock and produce. The land is also preserved in its natural state through several conservation areas, where one can still see how the countryside looked before farming and industry came.

Businesses, big and small, take advantage of the transportation available to and from Harvard. The railroad was the first major form of transportation that effected Harvard. The roadways that serve Harvard give easy access to major cities like Chicago, Madison and Milwaukee. Chicago and Milwaukee offer inland seaports, international airports and are still important railheads. These cities and other cities that are closer, such as Crystal Lake, Elgin, Rockford, DeKalb, Lake Geneva and Kenosha, offer cultural, educational and recreational benefits that are just as accessible. All of the above are within a two hour drive or less from Harvard. Having easy access and availability to these types of resources make up our environment and improve our quality of life.
